AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE.

ANNAPOLIS (in Maryland) September 26, 1769.

CAPTAIN Andrew Bryson, of the ship Betsey, arrived at this place last week from Bristol, which place he left the 18th of July, as appears by the papers lodged in the Custom-House. Immediately on the arrival of the ship, we, with some other merchants in the city, made enquiry what goods were on board the said ship, which was found to consist only of an adventure of the Captain's, amounting to about 700 l. sterling, which goods being purchased, and the ship sailed before the resolutions for non-importation in this province could be heard of in England; it was our opinion, that Captain Bryson had a right to dispose of his goods: A few days ago we purchased of him, part of the above mentioned goods, amounting to £. 217: 10: 1 sterling cost, amongst which were goods to the amount of £. 133 of those kinds enumerated in the general association entered into the 22d of June last, as goods not to be imported; and though they were shipped before these resolutions could be known in England, yet, as the purchase is thought, by many gentlemen, to be repugnant to the general spirit of the association, and of the fifth article in particular, we, as soon as we knew the sentiments of these gentlemen, determined and declared our resolution, to deliver the said enumerated goods immediately to be stored until the repeal of the revenue-acts, as we are clearly of opinion, that wherever the least doubt arises, the interpretation should be in favour of discouraging any person whatever, from importing or buying goods contrary to the true spirit of the association. We have therefore this day, of our own free will, delivered the above mentioned goods, into the possession of Messieurs Lancelot Jacques, Charles Wallace, Robert Couden, John Brice, Joshua Johnson, and Colin Campbell, who have stored the same for our use, and at our risk, until they can be released, agreeable to the full intent and meaning of the association.

WILLIAMSBURGH, SEPTEMBER 28.

Yesterday afternoon returned home from the Northward, in good health, the Hon. Peyton Randolph, Esq; late Speaker and our present worthy representative.

Two vessels from Antigua have been seized by the Collector here, for not making entry of certain slaves imported in them. Information was lodged at his office.

BOSTON, SEPTEMBER 28.

We hear that a person who had informed against a merchant at New-Haven, respecting a vessel then in the West-Indies, was sent for by the principal people there, he living 4 miles from town, and brought in about five minutes: they ordered him to the middle of the town-square, and being exalted on an eminence, acknowledged his fault, promised never to offend again. A frock was put on him which they tarred, then emptying two pillars of feathers on him, and fixing a pair of horns on his head, was sent about his business: he ran off as fast as he could in this ignominious dress; but not the least harm was done to his body.

NEW-YORK, OCTOBER 2.

To the respectable PUBLIC.

WHEREAS on the arrival of Capt. Spicer in a brigantine from Hull, some goods were landed, and Josias Short Vavasor, objected thereto, Capt. Spicer and Vavasor had harsh words, which next day was compromised, and in company Capt. Spicer declared himself, as in the following affidavit, which when reported by Vavasor and Waldron, was, by some of the committee of merchants in this city, said to be a falsehood,---and we the subscribers think we are bound to justify ourselves on oath, as follow.

City of New-York, ss.

JOSIAS SHORT VAVASOR, and Adolph Waldron, being duly sworn on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, depose and say, that on Saturday the 23d instant, being at the house of the said Adolph Waldron, Capt. Spicer, master of a brig from Hull, came into the room, who said, (after some discourse had passed) that the goods brought on board his brig, was only a cloak, and to open the door for the goods on board the ship Hope, Capt. de Peyster; and if it had not been for the goods on board the Hope, he would not be allowed to land one single bale, and further, if Mr. Thomas Franklin did not receive the goods, he, the said Capt. Spicer was to proceed with them to Philadelphia, and if not taken there, to carry them to Baltimore in Maryland, and if not allowed to land them there, to proceed back to Hull, with the vessel and cargo; and putting his hand into his pocket, drew out a paper, and said in that paper, was the names of four of the committee of merchants in this city, who was concerned in the lading of the ship Hope, "which paper was you to see, would set you all by the ears;" and further these deponents say not.

JOSIAS SHORT VAVASOR,
ADOLPH WALDRON.

Sworn before me, this 27th day of September, 1769,
WHITEHEAD HICKS.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 2.

A letter from Rhode-Island by the last post, says, "We have reduced our custom-house officers to the table of fees established by a law of this province, and have commenced some actions for exorbitant demands.

As money is scarce at Bermudas we hear the commissioners have lately had a large remittance of TURTLE from that island, some of which they dressed last week in this town; and though many invitations were given out to the royal repast, we hear that excepting the PENSIONED HYPOCRITE, that great friend to his country, not an American appeared to regale of their dainties.

Messieurs EDES and GILL,

THREE out of the four RESPECTABLE ADMTY judges upon the new establishment of six hundred a year, are now in this town, and have been in, and about it, almost ever since their appointment, except a visit of about 48 hours to Halifax, to appoint a DEPUTY (at an easy lay there) and another a visit to South-Carolina, for the same purpose---Is it not sufficient that our property is to be determined by a single judge, not altogether the highest in our esteem, and (as 'tis said) his salary to be paid out of the produce of condemnations? but, that single judge is to depute such persons as he pleases to hold courts, and pass judgment upon the property of English subjects in North-America? How such deputies are paid by their principals, and what sums they are to have for administring justice, is best known to themselves.---Mr. John M---m may probably be deputed for Rhode-Island, as 'tis likely he may do it upon an easy lay. SULLY.

NEW-PORT (Rhode-Island) OCTOBER 2.

Last Tuesday arrived here Captain Nathaniel Hathway, in 24 days from the Mole, who says, the Mole was declared a free port about ten days before he sailed, and is to continue so till January, 1771.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER 5.

On Saturday last arrived here from Hull, the brig Friends Goodwill, William Spicer Master; and brought a considerable quantity of British merchandize, shipped by some traders in England on their own account and risque, and consigned to sundry persons in this city. As these goods were shipped contrary to agreement, entered into by our merchants and traders; and after the same was known in England, the persons, to whom they were consigned, do not receive them, as the committee in this case, cannot store them. They are therefore, we hear, to be carried back. This firm, determined and peaceable conduct, must convince the world, that as our merchants and traders entered into this agreements with deliberation, so they are resolved inviolably to adhere them, at the same time it is hoped that this instance of their resolution will discourage any further attempts, to violate or take any advantage of their agreements.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 5.

Extract of a letter from New-York, dated September 22.

"Last night arrived a vessel from Poole, laden chiefly with dry goods, as I am told, consigned to the Captain, who says, he will contrary to any resolves among the merchants here, land and dispose of said goods to best advantage.---None are yet come on shore, being closely watched by the Sons of Liberty."

Extract of another letter, dated New-York, Sept. 24.

"On Tuesday last Mr. T. R---son mounted the rostrum, facing liberty pole in the fields, and made his public acknowledgment. He is a jeweller from England, with about 300 l. sterling in trinkets, &c. but he hath been obliged to consent to store them under the care of the committee.

"It is reported here, that all intercourse with Rhode-Island is nearly shut up, as if the plague was there, as we will neither sell to them, or ship them any goods, nor receive any from thence, nor suffer them to sell any in this province."

It is said, that at Philadelphia, they propose to have no intercourse in trade with Rhode-Island.

At a meeting of the freeholders, and other inhabitants of the town of Boston, legally assembled at Faneuil, on Wednesday the 4th of October, 1769.

The Hon. THOMAS CUSHING, Esq; Moderator.

AGREEABLE to the notification of the selectmen, it was ordered, That the authentic copies of the several letters, memorials, &c. wrote by Governor Bernard, Commodore Hood, the commissioners of the customs, and others, to the ministry, which were laid before the parliament, and transmitted to the selectmen by William Bollan, Esq; be read, so far as they related to this town: And they were read accordingly.

A motion was thereupon made, and it was unanimously voted, That the thanks of the town be, and hereby are given to William Bollan, Esq; for his generous care in transmitting to the selectmen, authentic copies of letters wrote to his Majesty's ministers of state, by Governor Bernard, General Gage, Commodore Hood, and others, and also of several memorials of the commissioners of the customs in America.---In which letters and memorials the disposition and conduct of the inhabitants of the town have been grossly misrepresented to our sovereign, in consequence whereof, they have been sensibly affected with marks of his Majesty's displeasure; and that the moderator be directed to transmit this vote of thanks to Mr. Bollan, for so seasonable and important a service.

It was also unanimously voted, That the Hon. Thomas Cushing, Esq; Mr. Samuel Adams, John Adams, Esq; the Hon. James Otis, Esq; Dr. Joseph Warren, Richard Dana, Esq; Joshua Henshaw, Esq; Joseph Jackson, Esq; and Benjamin Kent, Esq; be, and hereby are appointed a committee to consider what measures are proper to be taken, to vindicate the character of the town, from the false and injurious representations contained in the letters and memorials aforesaid, and report at the adjournment of this meeting.

After which upon a motion made, the following vote was unanimously passed:

THE merchants, not only of this metropolis, but through the continent, having nobly preferred the public good to their own private emolument: And with a view to obtain a redress of the grievances, so loudly and justly complained of, having almost unanimously engaged to suspend their importations from Great-Britain: A measure approved by all orders, as legal, peaceable, and most likely of all others to effect the salutary design in view; and which will be regarded by posterity with veneration, for the disinterested, and truly public spirit appearing in it: The town cannot but express their astonishment and indignation, that any of the citizens should be so lost to the feelings of patriotism and the common interest, and so thoroughly and infamously selfish, as to obstruct this very measure, by continuing their importation. Be it therefore solemnly voted, that the names of those persons, few indeed, to the honour of the town, viz. John Bernard, Nathaniel Rogers, Theophilus Lillie, James M'Masters and Comp. John Mein, Thomas Hutchinson, jun. and Elisha Hutchinson, be entered on the records of this town; that posterity may know, who those persons were that preferred their little private advantage to the common interest of all the colonies in a point of the greatest importance; who not only deserted, but opposed their country, in a struggle for the rights of the constitution, that must ever do it honour; and who, with a design to enrich themselves, basely took advantage of the generous self-denial of their fellow-citizens for the common good.

Ordered, That the foregoing votes be printed in the several public News-papers.

Then the meeting was adjourned to Wednesday, the 18th instant, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

Attest. WILLIAM COOPER, Town-Clerk.

Notwithstanding the above meeting was so full a one, the merchants of the town were, during the whole time, at the Representatives Chamber, on business of importance, which concerned the general cause.

Tuesday morning last arrived here the brig Wolf, Capt. Bryant, from London, which he left the 28th of July last. In the brig came Passengers, Samuel Venner, Esq; late secretary to the board of commissioners, Capt. Lyde, Capt. Coppinger, Mr. Patrick Smith, a merchant from London, and several others, among whom were one or two hatters and jewellers.

On the arrival of the above vessel, a meeting of the merchants was immediately called, and the following transactions voted to be published.

THE merchants of this town, met at Faneuil-Hall, on the third of October instant, and being informed, that Mr. Patrick Smith, a stranger from London, had imported a quantity of goods in the brigantine Wolf, John Bryant, Master, and considering, that in case strangers might import goods, while the merchants were obligated not to import any, it would have a direct tendency to frustrate the design of their agreement, and so be attended with fatal consequences, they appointed a committee to apply to Mr. Smith, and desire his attendance, who accordingly attended and signed an agreement to reship his goods for London, a copy of which is hereafter inserted. Capt. Nathaniel Byfield Lyde, and Mr. Colburn Barrell, also appeared at the meeting and signed similar agreements, which are also inserted below.

And at a meeting of the merchants the fourth inst. a gentleman appeared, and at the request of Thomas and Elisha Hutchinson, informed the merchants that they were ready to treat with them with respect to the goods they had imported; upon which a committee was appointed to hear their proposals: The committee accordingly had a conference with them, and reported that they had acceded to every article of the agreement of the merchants, and had engaged to deliver up the eighteen chests of tea, they imported in Captain Bryant; as also any other goods that they might receive by any other vessel.------The committee also reported, that Mr. Theophilus Lillie met them, and acceded to the agreement, and entered into similar engagements.

Which report was accepted.

The merchants sent a message to Nathaniel Rogers, John Bernard, and James M'Masters, requesting their attendance at the meeting at half after three o'clock P. M.------Their several answers were highly insolent, and justly deserving of censure, particularly the answer received from James M'Masters, who refused to attend, and told Mr. Gore and Mr. Freeman, that the merchants might do as they pleased, that he found they intended to make a riot, which he should be glad to see!

Voted unanimously, That these several persons by continuing their importations from time to time, contrary to the sense of the trade, notwithstanding the pains that has been taken to prevail with them to accede to the agreement, have discovered a base attachment to their own little private interests and a total disregard to that of the public: It appears they have had a settled design to counteract and defeat the generous efforts of the merchants, and have acted altogether unbecoming the character of good citizens, and therefore are not only unworthy of the countenance and favour of the public in any respect, but by this their conduct have rendered themselves justly obnoxious to all who have any regard for the welfare of their country.

Voted, That the committee of inspection be and hereby are desired to make strict inquiry after such persons as may hereafter purchase goods of those who continue to import from Great-Britain contrary to the agreement of the merchants, and publish their names in the news-papers.

Voted, unanimously, That the conduct of the standing committee is highly worthy of our approbation, and we accordingly approve of it in every instance, especially in the fair, just and impartial account which they published the 28th of August last, relative to such goods as have been imported from Great-Britain since the agreement of non-importation has taken place, in answer to the fallacious and scandalous assertions of one John Mein [a Scotch Bookseller, from Glasgow, who has lately set up a Printing-house in Boston] in his many scurrilous and abusive publications.

WHEREAS I the subscriber have imported a quantity of goods consisting of twenty eight bales and cases in the Brigantine Wolfe, from London, and I find since my arrival, that it will greatly interfere with, and have a tendency to defeat the good intentions of the merchants of this place, in their agreements of non-importation, and gives great uneasiness to the people of this place: I hereby promise and engage to re-ship the said goods to London, by the first vessel that will take freight for said place, provided the charge of re-shipping and insurance of the same be borne by the merchants here, as well as my passage back.

Boston, October 3d, 1769. PATRICK SMITH.

WHEREAS I the subscriber have imported a quantity of goods, consisting of four cases, in the Brigantine Wolfe, from London; and I find since my arrival, that it will greatly interfere with, and have a tendency to defeat the good intentions of the merchants of this place, in their agreement of non-importation, and gives great uneasiness to the people of this place; I hereby promise and engage to re-ship the said goods to London, by the first vessel that will take freight for said place, provided the charge of re-shipping, insurance and freight of the same, be borne by the merchants.

Boston, October 3, 1769. NATH. BYFIELD LYDE.

WHEREAS I the subscriber have a parcel of goods contained in six trunks, eight cases, per the brigantine Wolfe, consigned to me from London; I hereby promise and engage to re-ship the said goods to London by the first vessel that will take freight for said place, provided the charge of re-shipping, insurance and freight for the same be borne by the merchants, and also indemnify me from any charges that may arise on said goods here from this time. COLBURN BARRELL.

We hear the merchants here propose that if the Rhode-Island merchants do not come into an agreement for non-importation of goods from Great-Britain, they will treat them as those at New-York and Philadelphia have done, and inform their correspondents in London, that if they ship goods for Newport or Providence, they will change their correspondents.

It is also proposed, that an agreement be signed by the owners of vessels, gone and going for London, to give their masters orders in writing, not to take on board any goods except what is allowed of by the merchants here, until the revenue acts are repealed.

It is likewise proposed that an agreement be subscribed to, as has been in Philadelphia and New-York, to extend their non-importation until the revenue acts are repealed.

A day or two ago one of the importers sent a trunk of goods to go to Old York by Capt. Winn, who inquiring of the servant from whence they came, and being informed, the Captain refused to take it on board, and sent the servant back with the goods.---Some altercation ensued between the merchant and Captain; but the goods were not taken on board.

We hear that two strangers who imported three boxes of linens from Philadelphia in Capt. Gorham, have agreed to re-ship them by the first vessel that sails for that port.

NEW-YORK, OCTOBER 9.

On Saturday fortnight one Kelly, an oysterman; one Mitchner, a tavern-keeper; and one or two more, having, it is said, made an Information to the custom-house officers, which occasioned the seizure of a few casks of wine belonging to the mate of a vessel, and was, it is said, the whole saving he had made of three years wages: The populace being greatly incensed against the informers, after several days search, found and seized them, placed and tied them in carts, and carted them through great part of the city, attended with many thousand people, who huzza'd, insulted, and treated them with the utmost indignity, often besmearing their faces and clothes with tar, and sprinkling them with feathers, so that they made a most hideous appearance, and certainly felt as miserable as they looked; and had no little reason to fear that their lives were in danger.---However, they escaped without any other punishment, than being thus exhibited as public spectacles of scorn and detestation. We hear the magistrates interposed, but were for some time unable to stop the cavalcade, till the populace had in some measure satiated their resentment.

PHILADELPHIA, OCTOBER 12.

By a gentleman just arrived from London, we are informed the commissioners of the customs were much incensed at the American board, on account of some complaints which they had the assurance to send home against them to the Lords of the Treasury; and one of the principal officers of the customs told him just before he embarked, that by the time he arrived in America, there would be orders sent out to call those gentlemen home, to give account of their conduct, and God grant they may meet the reward of their iniquity.

Yesterday the Sons of Neptune, having heard that there was a person who had lodged an information with the Collector of the customs, concerning some pipes of wine, which were landed in this city, without paying the duties thereon, were so irritated, that they went in pursuit of him, and having found him, demonstrated to the public, how much they abhorred and detested the villain who would lodge an information of that kind, by ducking of him, fixing him in the public pillory (a place erected for people of infamous character) besmearing him with tar, and bestrewing him with feathers, and exposed him in that condition to the inhabitants of this city, who expressed their satisfaction, at seeing a people so justly sensible of the injury that such a detestable wretch must be to the traders of this place.

EUROPEAN INTELLIGENCE.

LONDON, AUGUST 11.

IT is apprehended by a certain Nobleman, and imagined by all his friends, that it will not be long ere he is cited to appear before a certain assembly in the city, to answer some charges of a peculiar and weighty nature, respecting his former conduct, in the use of the great power entrusted with him.

It is very justly observed by many hundreds of the fair sex, as as also by the gentlemen of the several musical societies dispersed over England, that Music was never so much in vogue as at this time, which is in a great measure attributed to that great and amiable patroness, our most gracious Queen, who, in a very masterly manner, plays on the organ, harpsichord, and piano forte; which seems to have stirred up the youth of both sexes, nay, even grown persons, to attain this great and most agreeable of all accomplishments.

AUGUST 14.

The ministry, we are well informed, have come to a resolution to appoint no provincial governors, merely for the political interest of themselves, or friends; having, by late experience, found how necessary it is, for the service of the nation, not to be swayed by any thing but personal merit in such high appointments.

It has been remarked, greatly to the honour of Lord Chatham, that when he was at the head of administration, no means of any kind were ever used, either directly or indirectly, by him, or his order, to influence electors in the choice of members to serve in parliament.

It is said that the friends of the M-----s of R--------m, and those of the E--l of C----m, will have a meeting before the opening of the next session, in order to consider of a proper plan for adopting such measures as will preserve the constitutional rights of the people.

Notwithstanding the majority the ministry presume they are certain of at the ensuing session, yet much is expected from the present meetings of the patriots, especially as they seem determined to unite in the most formidable opposition to the present measures.

On Friday a turtile of a very considerable weight, drawn by six horses, and a puncheon of rum, were sent as a present to his Grace the Duke of Grafton, from Sir Francis Bernard, in America.

On Thursday Col. Luttrell arrived in town from Ireland.

AUGUST 17.

A petition from the city of Westminster was read on Wednesday night at the Globe-tavern in the Strand, and unanimously agreed to.

A letter from Bridgewater mentions, that at the meeting at the races for the said town, the sense of the gentlemen then present was taken with regard to petitioning, who were all unanimous for a petition, and the sheriff was desired to advertise a county meeting for that purpose.

By a gentleman just arrived in town from France, we are informed, that the French have actually, at this time, no less than 20 ships of the line, besides frigates, and two bomb vessels, in the several wet docks, and harbour of Brest, which have undergone a thorough repair this summer, and can be got ready for sea, on an emergency, at a month's notice.

AUGUST 19.

Yesterday there was but a very thin levee at St. James's; none of the great officers of state were there, except the Lords Rochford and Weymouth; his Majesty returned to Richmond about three o'clock, to dinner.

After the breaking up of the levee, the Right Hon. the Earl of Rochford and Lord Weymouth had a conference with his Majesty for near an hour and an half.

Yesterday a messenger was sent express to his Grace the Duke of Grafton, at his seat at Whittlebury-Forest in Northamptonshire.

Mr. Wilkes had exactly eight months imprisonment to suffer from yesterday.

On Wednesday night last, at the meeting of the electors for the city and liberty of Westminster, at the Globe-tavern in the Strand, Robert Jones, Esq; of Hill-street, Berkeley-square, was in the chair, and made a very eloquent speech. A letter from a certain patriotic Alderman, declaring his firm and determined resolution to support them to the utmost of their power, was read, and met with universal approbation.

AUGUST 20.

It is reported Lord Harcourt has received his letters of recal from the court of Versailles.

It is also reported, that a certain noble member of the minority has been threatened with the revival of some obsolete crown claims on part of his estate, on account of his spirited opposition to ministerial despotism.

Several marching regiments of foot are ordered to be filled up to their full complements, for which purpose several recruiting parties are ordered into the country.

AUGUST 22.

Sunday two expresses were dispatched to Fonthill, the seat of that unshaken, permanent friend to liberty, Mr. Alderman Beckford; which gives ground for a report (devoutly wished to be true) that this true patriot is coming into the administration, when new measures, as well as new men, are to be adopted, and that he himself will accept of the chancellorship of the Exchequer, without fees or salary.

On Saturday a respectable and popular citizen, communicated some transactions of a very important nature to four of his brethren, in consequence of which, another general meeting, we are assured, will be shortly appointed.

We hear that a certain patriotic Alderman is beset on every side by the m-------y, who are trying every means in their power to bring him over to their interest. They stop at nothing to induce him to incline to them, and even go so far as to tempt him with five golden pippins, besides other honours and emoluments; so much are they in dread of an honest independant man: but it is hoped, and indeed there is not much reason to fear, that he will be proof against their baneful temptation, and take warning by the fatal example of our mother Eve; and not, for the sake of a taste of the gaudy fruit, be banished the paradise of public favour.

By the last mails from Boston, almost incredible accounts are come over, setting forth, in glaring colours, the behaviour of the military, and the evasions practised to screen them from public justice. But as Sir Francis Bernard has at last received his letters of recall, it is hoped, if he be the public American defaulter he is universally represented to be, that he will be rewarded as he deserves.

It is said that the freeholders of Yorkshire will confine their petition of grievances to three points only: First, The violation of electional rights: Secondly, The internal taxation of American subjects; and thirdly, To the adviser or advisers of these two violent, unconstitutional, and despotic measures.

Considerable wagers have been laid, that before November next, petitions will be received at St. James's from two-thirds of the counties of England.

A letter lately made public, and addressed to a Great Personage, has, from its familiarity, we hear, given great disgust.

Either from an expectation of a change in the ministry, or the extraordinary matters that will be laid before parliament the next session, it is thought there will be fewer members absent than have been for many years.

It is imagined the first day of Michaelmas term will furnish the public with matter of much conversation. Indeed, it is expected there will be more motions made in the courts that day, of singular nature, than at any other period whatever.

We cannot excuſe ourſelves from laying before our Readers, the following moſt extraordinary Letter, publiſhed in the Whitehall Evening-Poſt of the 19th of Auguſt laſt---although they may think the Writer thereof, either extremely wicked, or ſhamefully ignorant.

To the Printer of the WHITEHALL EVENING-POST.

SIR,

Your inſerting the following letter, which I received from a correſpondent in Charles-Town, South-Carolina, by the laſt packet, will enable your readers to form a proper opinion of the importance to the people of England of the late alarming reſolutions of the inhabitants of that province, and perhaps ſerve to throw ſome light upon the ſimilar reſolutions of the inhabitants in the other colonies. The duty which I owe to my country muſt be my apology for making this letter public.

I am, SIR,

Your humble Servant, J. C.

SIR, Charles-Town, July 1, 1769.

HEREWITH you will receive my order for a large parcel of goods for a winter aſſortment, to be ſent to this place early in the fall, together with a remittance upon account, as by my letters accompanying it will be made appear to you; all which I now confirm. The preſent ſerves to hand to you a ſmall order for account of our friend T. S. who, to make himſelf of importance, has begun an aſſociation here not to import ſundry goods from England until the duty acts are repealed; and the better to ſhew his patriotiſm, has written a letter (a copy of which he hands about with the ſubſcription-paper) countermanding an order he had lately given to his own houſe in London for the ſeveral goods which, in confidence, he has deſired I will procure for him. A number of names were ſoon got to this extraordinary paper; and if you knew their circumſtances, you would have no doubt of their adhering moſt firmly to their engagements. Some of them indeed you and the other gentlemen in the Carolina trade do know; for they were refuſed credit by you all very lately, and therefore you will not wonder at their joining in an aſſociation not to deal with you. For the ſame reaſon, I ſhall expect to ſee our neighbours in Georgia forming the like aſſociation; for I underſtand that ſeveral of their orders are come back unexecuted, and that others have been greatly curtailed in the execution. It is an excellent method of concealing our want of credit, to engage not to deal with thoſe who we know will not truſt; pride and chagrin will alſo excite others to declare the ſame enmity againſt England, that want of credit has led theſe to do. When any of our great men go over to you, they expect to find themſelves as important upon the Royal Exchange as the have been under our Vendue Houſe, and that their nonſenſe a and vociferation will paſs upon you for reaſon and argument. A little experience ſhews them their miſtake; and after having run out ſomething more than their income in ſupporting their ideal importance, they find England to be a land of ſlaves, and betake themſelves in high dudgeon to their native ſwamps.

The reſtraints upon trade, and the want of paper currency, are fine topics for theſe malignants to declaim upon; and nothing is more common than to hear ſuch perſons charge all the conſequences of their own imprudence and extravagance upon the meaſures of Great-Britain. Many a man, who has not effects ſufficient to pay half what he owes, lays his inability at the door of the ſtoppage of the Spaniſh trade and the Stamp act; and thoſe who never paid a ſhilling duty complain, that thoſe harpies, the cuſtom-houſe officers, have carried away all the gold and ſilver.

Our aſſembly-men are all turning œconomiſts from ſimilar motives. The ſtanding order for wearing wigs and ſtockings has been reſcinded in reſpect to committees; ſo that they will now do buſineſs in caps and long trowſers. Should a new governor arrive here while an aſſembly is ſitting, and they ſhould ſend a committee to compliment him, he would probably from their dreſs take them for ſo many unhappy perſons ready equipped for execution, who had come to petition him for a pardon, and not for the only true repreſentatives of the province coming to addreſs him. Such are the poor ſhifts the patriots here are driven to, in order to alarm your manufacturers, and ſupport their own ſinking importance. O that terrible ſtroke upon them! The ſending troops to Boſton has ſo lowered them, that they dare not bully; and all they have for it now is pretences to œconomy.

People on your ſide, I hope, will not be ſo weak as to take any notice of their reſolutions, and then all will ſoon be over with them, and ſubmiſſion and quiet will follow. Yours, &c.

CHARLES-TOWN, NOVEMBER 2.

LAST Saturday ROBERT RAPER, Eſquire, Naval-Officer for this Port, and Mr. WILLIAM ANCRUM, Merchant, returned in good Health, from a Tour through ſome of the Northern Colonies, in the Sally, Capt. Blewer, from Philadelphia, who alſo brought 23 other Paſſengers. They inform us, that Buſineſs is carried on at the Cuſtom-Houſe there as formerly, without Waiters being ſtationed to every Veſſel, to ſee every Article landed, or requiring particular Permits for the Delivery of Goods not ſubject to Duties: And that all Ship-Letters are carried, as uſual, and delivered out at the Coffee-Houſe, it being impoſſible to make the People there believe, that the Poſt-Office was not eſtabliſhed for the ſole Purpoſe of raiſing a Revenue in America, &c.

The Cuſtom-Houſe here, ſince Mr. Hatley's Diſmiſſion from Office, is removed to the New Guard-Houſe, oppoſite to the State-Houſe. A Letter from the Agent of this Province, to the Committee of Merchants, dated London, Auguſt 2d, adviſes, that they have carried their Point againſt the Collector, Daniel Moore, Eſq; he having been ſuperceded upon their Complaints of his infamous Conduct. The preſent known Officers here, are,

George Mills, Eſq; Controller of Newhaven, in Connecticut, Inſpector-General, &c.
George Roupell, Eſq; Deputy-Collector and Searcher.
John Morris, Eſq; Controller.
Mr. Fenwicke Bull, his Deputy.
William Coats, Eſq; Searcher.
Mr. Thomas Woodin, Weigher and Gauger.
Mr. John Sanſon, } Waiters.
Mr. James Markham, }
Capt. William Preſton, }

The Rev. Mr. Hezekiah Smith, we hear, has met with ſome Succeſs, in collecting Benefactions for eſtabliſhing a College, even in the Colony of Rhode-Iſland!---An evident Proof, that ſuch an Eſtabliſhment, in this Town, would meet with no Diſcouragement in this Province.---Another Gentlemen, we hear, may be ſoon expected here, to collect for the College in the Jerſies.

The firſt Parcel of RICE of the preſent Year's Crop offered for Sale, was only 14 Barrels, and ſold laſt Friday, at 60*ſ.* per 100lb. Several larger Parcels have ſince been brought to Town, and ſome diſpoſed of at the ſame Price, but none at 65*ſ.*

In July laſt, we took Notice, that few Planters in this Province, and quite to Virginia, would make a ſufficient Quantity of Indian Corn for Proviſion for their Slaves, much leſs for Exportation, owing to the exceſſive Drought that had prevailed in the early Part of the Summer. The preſent great Demand for it confirms what was then ſaid; and it now ſells at no leſs than 10*ſ.* per Buſhel in the Market. Perhaps it may be found expedient and neceſſary, that we ſhould be reſtrained in the EXPORTATION of that Grain, except in ſome particular ſpecial Caſes.

From Dominica, we have an Account of a moſt dreadful Inundation at Roſſeau on the 23d of September laſt; the River, which ran along the back of that Town, and emptied itſelf into the Sea at the North End, having ſuddenly, about 8 o'Clock at Night, changed its wonted Courſe, and made three conſiderable Breaches through the Town, the middle one carrying away all the houſes, (among them ſome of the moſt elegant in the Weſt-India Iſlands) ſtores, &c. from the Goal to the Water-ſide, and continuing its Courſe, notwithſtanding all ſubſequent Efforts to alter it. It was ſo ſudden, that many of the Inhabitants had not Time to ſave themſelves or Effects. A vaſt Quantity of Flour and other Proviſions (and many Lives) were loſt. Four Perſons that got upon the Roof of a Houſe were carried away thereon by the impetuous Torrent, and taken up at Sea by a Veſſel bound to Martinique, where they were ſafely landed. The Country was ſuppoſed alſo to have ſuffered much, all the Rivers having been ſwelled by late heavy Rains.

Laſt Tueſday died, univerſally regretted, on his Plantation at Combahee, of a nervous Fever, and after a ſhort Illneſs, William-Ward Croſthwate, Eſq; formerly of the Army, aged only Twenty-ſix Years.

Part of the 21ſt Regiment embarked laſt Tueſday, in the Scooners Hawke and Liberty; another Part, this Day, in the Sloop Wanchy; and the Remainder will in a day or two more, go on board the Scooners Polly and Margaret, and then proceed for St. Auguſtine.

 We are ſorry, that we cannot yet give our Readers the Remainder of the Letter ſubſcribed "A MEMBER OF THE ASSEMBLY, AND SIGNER OF THE RESOLUTIONS," without diſobliging ſuch as are eager for Intelligence from Abroad: But in our next, it ſhall certainly be the Public's.

We acknowledge the Receipt of ſeveral Pieces this Week; ſome of which will be publiſhed as ſoon as we have Room; but the Nature of others will oblige us to ſuppreſs them.

The Printer is concerned, that he hath not been able to give his Readers more London Intelligence in this Day's Gazette; and ſuch of them whoſe Advertiſements are left out, to make Room for the little given, he hopes, will be ſo good as to excuſe it.

Takes the Liberty of informing the Public,

THAT he has opened his ACADEMY for instructing YOUTH in the ENGLISH LANGUAGE, and initiating them in SEVERAL OTHER NECESSARY AND ORNAMENTAL BRANCHES OF EDUCATION, at Mr. Allwood's, in Queen-Street; where regular Attendance is given from Nine to Twelve in the Morning, and from Three to Six in the Afternoon.

Such Parents, who are pleased to favour him with the Care of their Children, may, whenever they chuse, have free Access to his Academy, in order to observe the Mode of Education, and may likewise have a Perusal of any of his Lectures.

He purposes to attend young Ladies at their own Houses, and to instruct them in reading and speaking the English Language with Propriety, as well as to give them a Taste for Geography and History.

N. B. There is a Room, at the Academy, for young Ladies, distinct from that in which the young Gentlemen are to be.
